“It Takes a Village” Workshop Series

We created the “It Takes A Village” series because we know sometimes parents need a way to attend events and be able to bring their children.* During these workshops we have prepared an activity for children while parents learn information about special education, ask questions, and discuss issues and needs. Parents who attend all three workshops are eligible for a certificate and a tool to aid their understanding of special education and advocacy.

Schedule:

October 3rd - Understanding Special Education - Sand Art Activity

November 7th - Parent Advocacy 101 - Slime Making Activity

December 5th - The Paper Chase - Rock Painting Activity

*Please note - this is not childcare and parents are responsible for their children. ***
